Among all of these you want to gather more information about the subject knowledge to crack any of the interviews."

"question": "Which companies recruit students from PSG College of Technology

"answer": "Placements here were quite good, and I am not sure on the percentage of placed students. Companies like Amazon, Microsoft, etc., visited the campus and hired a few students. As I am from a non-IT background, I was allowed to sit for companies like Mu Sigma, IBM, CTS, Accenture, Wipro, and Infosys. We don't have a placement cell, and I don't remember entering there. Even we didn't have any biotech company for placements as the salary they offered to pay was not up to our college expectations."

,"question": "What are the job prospects for different departments at PSG

College of Technology

"answer": "The placements are very good, but there's a catch. For CSE, IT, ECE, EEE, and mechanical, the placements are very good because many companies come for recruitment for these departments. For other departments, the placements are average. The placed percentage in my department is 80% in my batch and 70% in the other batch."

,"question": "What is the placement success rate at PSG College of Technology

"question": "How does PSG College of Technology help students secure internships

"answer": "In our class, more than 80% of the students got placed in the IT companies like CTS, TCS, Infosys, Accenture with the salary of 3.5 LPA. But for the robotics, we didn't get any core companies. Only a few of them got placed in robotics-related companies like Fanuc, Robert Bosch. In this course, we try to get the in-depth knowledge in any specific area as it is a multidisciplinary course. We just studied the basics of EEE and the mechanical, but the companies want more from us. Most of the companies even don't know about this course. Most of the students got the internship in the final year with an average stipend of 5k. We also got the internship abroad. If you want to get placed in a good company, you have to maintain your CGPA above 8. The placement cell is good but only if the companies need the robotics engineers."

"answer": "Our college is famous for placements. Mostly, everyone gets placed.

The pay is good too. But at present, the core companies offer a less salary and the intake is reducing year by year. 85% got placed overall, whereas only 30% got placed in core jobs. The highest was offered by IT companies is 12 LPA and the lowest was around 3 LPA. As has been said, Google, Infosys, Asian Paints, General

Motors, etc visited. We have good internship offers. 3rd years are given internships for around 6 months with or without a salary. Others frame their career

UPSC and other such government exams."

"question": "How effective is the placement support for batch 5 students at

PSG College of Technology

"answer": "This is one of the best colleges where more than 80% placements are assured. Students have the opportunity to get placed in top companies like

Microsoft, Google, Amazon, Qualcomm, Mynt, etc. Engineering or associate engineering roles were offered for the B.Tech degree holders. Almost 70% of the students internship. As per my knowledge, the maximum stipend offered is around 50,000 from Microsoft, and the lowest stipend offered is around 10,000 from Infosys."

"question": "What are the career prospects for batch 4 graduates at PSG

"answer": "The college is good regarding the placements, and they offer a lot of good companies and salary packages to all the students in our college. And they allotted a special team of faculty members for all the departments. In the previous year, around 92% seniors got placed in good companies."

"question": "How successful is the placement drive for batch 5 in PSG College of Technology's civil department

"answer": "Placements of the civil engineering department in PSG College of Technology are good with many core industries in civil engineering like Shapoorji Pallonji, Shobha Developers, etc visiting the campus and recruiting students. Even non-civil companies like TCS, IBM, CTS and Infosys recruit students from the civil department. The placement cell ensured that students trained for placement by conducting classes on aptitude. The college didn't disclose data related to stipends so as such it can't be mentioned but it was definitely on par with industry standards."

"question": "What is the general experience of students going through

placements in batch 5 at PSG College of Technology

"answer": "The placement process is carried out by a placement cell which is administered by the college authorities. Placements for the students start at the beginning of the fourth year and end at the end of the year. The placement process is effectively handled by the placement cell. About 75% got placed in my batch through the placement cell. Highest salary was around 5.5 lakhs and the lowest package was around 3 lakhs. Companies like General Motors, Mahindra, Hyundai, Mu Sigma, Latent View, Infosys, CTS, Accenture, IBM, Ford, Wipro, Rane, Ashok Leyland, Nissan, etc visited the campus. The roles offered are R&D, testing, developer, marketing, sales, services, etc."

"answer": "The only solid requirement to enroll in placements list is that you should not be having arrears currently. CGPA doesn't really matter. Only a few well-paying companies put forth a CGPA requirement. Even if you have a low CGPA, you can conveniently get into mass recruitment IT companies. Have confidence and prepare Quantitative Aptitude really well and that should give you a reasonable head start. Good Luck

"question": "What is the donation fees for MSc Integrated course in PSG

"answer": "There is no donation fee collected publicly for the course. It doesn't demand or insist on this too. But I came to know that two of my classmates came through recommendation and donation. One admitted through donation and another through recommendation and donation through an alumnus of the department. The department doesn't agree to this easily, you should have some kind of big recommendation or people relating to the department recommending you makes the final call; so you should convince him somehow. Study well and try your hand in Interview process, having extra curricular talent is a bonus. All the Best."

"question": "What is the scope of the Msc theoretical computer course offered in ",

"answer": "Studying the same course, I strongly feel that the scope for M.Sc TC S ( abbreviated ) is towards academic research. Much emphasis is gi students to take up research work early in the programme and are encouraged to pursue their 7th and 10th semester internships in reputed academic or research institutions, both in India and abroad. This being said, the vision of the programme is to produce talented individuals for Research and development in industries. This is reflected by the alumni network of the programme, as well as the projects completed by students during their 2 internships. So, industrial or academic research would be the main scope if you are opting for M.Sc TC S."

"question": "Why is there little-to-no semester break at",

"answer": "PSG TECH does not provide breaks between semesters in order to complete the syllabus ahead of time than other top engineering colleges in TN. So although it seems to go slower pace in the first two years, the course is designed to finish syllabus sooner. This way students can make use of the leave periods for internships and in-plan training at different industries. PSG TECH also provides higher number of days as study holidays before exams unlike Anna University. So it seems PSG TECH gives lesser leave periods than other college"

"question": "In which language do teachers teach in",

"answer": "The medium of instruction is English- since there are students from other states (typically Andhra/ Telangana and Kerala). However, most faculty I know, would gladly explain concepts and clarify doubts in Tamil if a student asks them after class. That being said, the teachers will always encourage you to pick-up English at the earliest, since almost all subjects have a presentation component which requires all students to make a presentation in English."

"question": "Is there a minimum cutoff mark to get a seat through management quota in",

"answer": "Yeah\u2026 there is. Am not very sure of what the aggregate required is. But am damn sure there is a minimum cutoff, and it varied from department to department. When I joined in 2013, I heard that it was around 190 for mech and 188 for EEE. Well for merit admissions, it is 198+ for both the departments, which may vary depending upon caste"

"question": "What rank should I get in the TNEA 2018 to get a CSE or an IT seat in ",

"answer": "For CSE, there are two categories. One is government aided and another is self finance. Students first prefer government aided CSE and you must be in top 500 in overall TNEA ranking. For self finance, you must be in top 1000 in overall ranking. IT Department is different and you have only self finance overall ranking may go higher up to top 1000. But all depends on other p ,

"question": "What is the best thing about studying in psg tech",

"answer": "According to multiple reviews, the best thing about studying at PSG Tech (PSG College of Technology) is its excellent placement opportunities. A high percentage of students securing jobs in reputed companies due to strong industry connections, coupled with well-equipped labs and a good reputation for quality technical education; many also highlight the quality of the infrastructure and facilities available on campus"

"question": "What's the difference between Joint MSc (SE/ TCS) Program and BE Computer Science in",

"answer": "A gist about the course. First of all the student quality and the peers which play a major role, as admission to this course is based on a personal interview, and the cut off marks, they pick the best out of the whole lot of applications that pour in. Moving to the curriculum and syllabus, the course is unique , the way its framed. You get to learn things with a practical approach , You learn professionalism , personality development , presentation , apart from just the academics . A highly reputed course in college , and the software industry , with a huge alumni support . The 6 months internship during 7 th sem , which gives you a great industrial experience, not just technical learning , you get to learn what really happens out there, beforehand , thereby giving you an insight into setting your interests and aims .To make it short this course is smart !

And i feel this level of practical knowledge and experience is not there when it comes to BE CSC , The alumni support , the reputation is considerably more in the case of an MS c S oftware engg , at PSG"

"question": "What is the hostel mess menu at psg tech",

"answer": "I think I am eligible to answer this question as I used to have hostel food throughout my 4 years undergraduate degree. In hostel, there will be a South Indian menu available . You can choose as per your wishes . Also, there will be a specially arranged North Indian menu food, you can get used by registering your Roll No as the mess bill will be different from South Indian food. Over all , food festival will be arranged in the month of October and hostel day function will be arranged in the month of March first week itself. You can get free accommodation and food arrangement for your parent . It is very wonderful hostel, I had experienced ."

"question": "Why is applied science not given importance in psg tech",

"answer": "Well, Applied Science was started sometime in 1982 if I remember right. Anyway, it came up to limelight due to demand and need for people in Computers and Sciences subjects who could involve in automating anything and everything. That is how Computer Science with other combination of Science subjects made headway where"

"question": "How is life after production engineering from psg",

"answer": "One of the good courses in Engineering. Production Engineering is best in PSG. Staff are very strict but you will have better exposure than any other colleges that has this course because PSG has its own industry up and running. Placements are also better for this course compared to other colleges. Many do not know this - PSG has an option called FASTRACK which means you can finish your exams in 7th semester itself. Usually any engineering course will have subjects in 8th semester. This option allows you to study those two courses as one in 6th and another one in 7th semester along with the existing subjects for the respective semesters. So you can do your final year project as internship you like since you do not have any subjects to study. Mostly above average placed in 7th semester itself. You must come to college once a month for project presentation and that's it"

"question": "What are the pros and cons of hostel life at pag tech",

"answer": "PSG Tech hostel life is an unforgettable experience, especially if you have great friends. The hostel offers a lot of freedom with no strict study hours or many restrictions. You can stay in the hostel even during college hours and switch rooms if you don't get along with your roommate. The mess food is good and there's a North Indian mess if you're looking for variety. You have the freedom to roam until 9

30 PM, and with a bit of creativity, you can avoid fines.

The large ground allows plenty of space for sports, and the TV hall is accessible anytime. Starting from the second year, guys have free nights on Saturdays, and there are special provisions for Ramzan, including early morning meals. Fun celebrations like New Year and Saturday movie screenings add to the excitement, and the hostel is equipped with amenities like a gym, library, and computer center.

Guys can leave for home whenever they want with a letter. However, for girls, there are a few restrictions like a 6

"question": "Is it a good idea to pursue MSC software engg course in",

"answer": "I think this was a question asked back in 2012 and none answered it then. But I think I can answer it even now because I took up the course in 2012 and feel it is very good. Now I am doing my 7th semester internship and hoping remaining part is even better. So coming back to the question, a better be to pursue MSc Software Engg(Now it has been renamed as Software Systems) or MSc Theoretical Computer Science or MSc Data Science. All these courses have a very good scope and provide great opportunities in terms of industries research."

shift from mechanical to automobile or from IT to CSE and vice versa. But there is a lot of procedure and you should have a good CGPA."

"question": "Is 'Life at psg tech' is good or bad",

"answer": "Definitely won't be like the one you would see in Movies. There will be no park where couples would be sitting and romancing as movies show.. Not the one where you can simply bunk the classes.. Attendance of 75% is compulsory. But, it will be definitely better than other engineering colleges\u2026 You have your own freedom.. (Yeah, boys can talk with girls :-D.. No need to follow a separate line while going for classes. No one will force you to study as schools.. You have to study by yourself\u2026 Initially, you will feel the pressure of assignments that you submit within the deadline.. After few months, you will get used to it.. :so, please don't expect the college to be like the engineering college in the movie inidhru. That's exactly opposite of what an Engineering college will be like.."

"question": "If I can get both a CSE and an MSc integrated course in PSG Tech, which should I opt for

"answer": "Both are equally good. If you want to have a deep knowledge of coding and subject knowledge MSc in PSG is the best but normally a topper will take CSE in PSG tech. It will be difficult to convince the society of your decision to take msc over cse. But I have seen persons doing that also in PSG tech. Last year 2022, one student with 200/200 cutoffs elected M.s.c. The knowledge that you gain in this course is more than the CSE course. But normally students who miss the CSE but PSG tech take Msc in PSG tech over CSE in other colleges. It is all your decision. But the course is worth it"

"question": "Which college is best for campus placements,",

"answer": "Since I have been researching about the Indian engineering education system for last 10 years hence I have an accurate answer to this question.

Both the colleges mentioned in the question are same colleges running in two separate buildings. Both are a Tier-4 Indian engineering college and overall placement review of all such colleges can be obtained from this link: Praveen Kumar Singh's answer to If I had to choose between Manipal and VIT purely based on placement, which one would I choose and why!

The graduates from both these colleges are shifted as clerks in the services based companies. 3\ u 20134 LPA. But these colleges can become a Tier-1 Indian engineering colleges if they start offering these facilities to their engineering students to the maximum possible extent."
